We recently had some communications with Webplover and during the conversation they offered to redesign our website and look at our marketing .

This was a most thorough exercise and resulted in a complete rethink of how we presented ourselves and how we went about marketing .

During this process we were very impressed with the patience , clarity and willingness to work with us, and nothing was too much trouble.

The work was completed in excellent time at a very good price.

The month just past was a record month for us in sales, exceeding previous year by over 200%, and we are convinced that this in part due to the excellent work of Webplover.
